Conference Background:

Gender-Based violence is one of the biggest problems we faced as a country in 2017 from women being abused and killed by their partners to children being molested in our schools. It's time we as a country to do away with such crimes and speak up against such things.

Basadi Hatella Pele is a company owned by women and we would like to take a stand against Gender-Based Violence against Women and Children. In 2018 we should not let such incidents happen ever again to our mothers, daughters, sisters and children. We have organized a conference where we will set a platform for NGOs, Government and Social workers, etc. to come together and share ideas on how we will put a STOP to Gender-Based Violence against women and children.

Research proves time after time that rates of gender-based violence are at epidemic proportions in South Africa. It's time we changed that statistic.

Objectives:

- To investigate the essence of gender violence in South Africa
- Exploring Psychological Aspects of Domestic Violence
- Role of Government, NGOS and Civil Society against- Gender Based Violence against women and children.
- Supporting children exposed to violence at home and at school
- The central role of man in combating GBV
- Preventing abuse by challenging the perpetrator
- The impact of Drugs and Alcohol, how they impact on GBV

Topics and Aspects to be covered:

Different elements, definitions and forms of violence

- Direct Violence
- Indirect Violence
- Psychological Violence
- Gas lighting

Psychological aspects of Domestic Violence

- Non-Physical
- Psychological aspect of domestic violence
